Program Notes

"Blossom by blossom the spring begins."

– Algernon Charles Swinburne

And the Spring arose on the garden fair,
Like the Spirit of Love felt everywhere;
And each flower and herb on Earth's dark breast
Rose from the dreams of its wintry rest.

– Percy Bysshe Shelley

Spring's Awakening is both an energetic and lyrical representation of the season. Syncopated rhythms with flowing melodic lines paint an aural landscape of a world in bloom. The blossoming flowers can be "heard" at the beginning of the piece as instruments get introduced with their own small melodic fragment. The combination of warm harmonies with driving rhythmic figures create a sense of a world stirring to life as winter comes to a close, and the cold is replaced by sunny days with a soft breeze.

Rehearsal Notes

Spring's Awakening contains multiple syncopated rhythmic figures that differ from one another. It's important to isolate these elements and have sections with the same ostinatos rehearse them together, not only for consistency but also to differentiate between the syncopated rhythms that they hear. The music also presents a great opportunity to work on balance and blend within the ensemble. M. 11-18, for example, should focus on tone color and quality to try to achieve a beautiful, warm sound.
