About the Music

Hungarian Rondo is the concluding section of Andante and Rondo Hungarian (op. 35), for bassoon and orchestra, produced in 1813 as a revision of an earlier version for solo viola and orchestra. It is one of the most frequently performed works in the solo bassoon repertoire, and has been recorded by numerous artists.

Rehearsal and Performance Suggestions

This arrangement has been designed for use in accompanying any one of these solo instruments: bassoon, bass clarinet, euphonium (reading either bass or treble clef,) or tuba. Solo parts for all are provided with this edition.

The conductor might consider limiting the number of brass accompanying on this arrangement, for balance considerations. Also, the two percussion parts are fully optional, and may be omitted without loss of musical effect.

The concluding section (m. 221 to the end) has been widely interpreted by soloists. The original edition presents articulation difficulties for a variety of wind players. Many bassoonists have altered the articulation to accommodate their style and strengths. An alternate, or "ossia," solo part has been provided for this finale section, which may suit certain performers more satisfactorily.

About the Composer

Carl Maria von Weber (1786-1826) was a brilliant pianist, and one of the most prolific and revered composers of the Romantic period. German born and educated, Weber composed piano music, ten operas, two symphonies, sacred music, and numerous works for solo instrument with orchestra. His most frequently performed works today include his piano work "Invitation to the Dance" (more frequently heard in a Hector Berlioz orchestration), several works for solo wind instruments, and overtures to his operas "Oberon," "Der Freischütz," and "Euryanthe."

About the Arranger

Andrew Glover's diverse career in music has included successful tenures as educator, composer/arranger, performer, conductor, clinician, and publisher. He joined the staff of the C. L. Barnhouse Company in 1998, and as Executive Vice President is in charge of music production, serves as staff composer-arranger and editor, and manages the business as Chief Operating Officer. A native of the St. Louis area, he was educated in the public schools of Webster Groves, where he was a student of Walter Lathen, Tony Carosello, and Ed Carson. He received a Bachelor of Music Education degree from Central Methodist University, where he studied with Keith House, Ron Anson, and Ronald Shroyer, and did graduate work at Southeast Missouri State University.

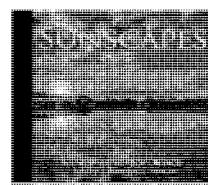

As a sophomore in high school, Glover first band arrangement was performed by the school's wind ensemble, and thus began a multi-decade career in composition and arranging. His band works number over 200, many published by Barnhouse, and have been performed, recorded, and broadcast by bands worldwide.

In college, Glover won a position in the Detroit Concert Band, conducted by Leonard B. Smith, and performed for four seasons on euphonium. He participated in numerous recording sessions with the DCB, including ten phonograph records of "Gems of the Concert Band" and a documentary film soundtrack. For many years he also performed as a soloist and guest artist.

Glover taught briefly in the public schools of Webster Groves, and served for seven years as Director of Bands at Rosary High School in St. Louis. As a guest conductor, clinician, soloist, and speaker he has appeared in over 35 states. He also worked in the private sector for over a decade in association management.

An enthusiast of, and advocate for classic concert band music and history, Glover is not only involved in new music production at Barnhouse, but also oversees the company's 130+ year archive of publications and historical memorabilia, and is frequently involved in band history research projects. He is a member of ASCAP; Association of Concert Bands, where he serves on the advisory council; and is Vice President of Windjammers Unlimited. In May 2013 he received the Distinguished Alumni award from Central Methodist University.
