PRAIRIE SONGS

Prairie Songs is based on two songs from the Midwest. These songs were sung and known in Wisconsin and, therefore, seem especially appropriate for a piece celebrating the state's sesquicentennial (1848-1998).

"The Pinery Boy," from the Eau Claire region of Wisconsin, is used in the opening section of Prairie Songs. The song tells the story of a young girl who set out in search of her lover, a raftsman working on the river. Her search ends when she learns from the captain that her lover has perished in the river. The young lady returns home and dies of a broken heart. Despite the tragic, and at times, melodramatic nature of the verse, the melody is broad and expansive in scope (an octave plus three notes). The setting of this tune in Prairie Songs is intended to convey a feeling of grandeur and beauty of the (land before time).

The second section of the piece quotes "The Turkey Song" which some authorities believe originated in Kentucky and moved west with settlers. It is found in various collections of childrens' folksongs, including those of Pete Seeger and Jill Trinka.

Common melodic patterns between the two songs make them sound as though they are related. The two themes are presented concurrently in the maestoso section just prior to the coda (allegro).

"The Pinery Boy"

Oh a raftsman's life is a wearisome one,
It causes many fair maids to weep and mourn.
For the loss of a true love that never can return.

"The Turkey Song"

As I came over yonder's hill
I spied a mighty turkey.
He flapped his wings, and he spread his tail and his feet looked awful dirty.

PERFORMANCE NOTES

Although scored for first clarinets, the pickup to measure 9 can be used to feature a solo player, with tutti resuming at the pickup to measure 15. At measure 24, the ensemble must not eclipse the melody in the alto and tenor saxophones, and euphonium. Pay close attention to articulation markings throughout the allegro section. Notes that conclude slurred passages are often marked with a staccato and should be played short, but not clipped or accented. The canonic section at measure 84 should remain piano until the sudden forte just before measure 93. The two themes are combined at measure 139, and dynamics may have to be adjusted accordingly. The bells can be omitted in this section if so desired. Enjoy Prairie Songs.
